MAINTENANCE

If you wish to maintain the leathers patina, we recommend that you wipe the cocoon chair with a damp cloth, on a regular basis. You should avoid using detergent, bleachers and scourers, only use foam from soap flakes, dissolved in heated water. If you wish to reduce stains, extend the leathers lifetime, and don't mind that the leather get's a bit darker, we recommend using leather grease or leather oil. When using one of the above the leather will be nourished and impregnated. Water, grease and alcohol can cause marks and stains, and should be removed as soon as possible. For harsh marks and stains, we recomend that you remove them with an effective leather cleanser.

LEATHER

Vegetable-tanned leather is very susceptible to dirt and stains. Most vegetable leather will get "patina" and darken over time, other becomes lighter (fade).

OTHER INFORMATION

We recommend that you maintain a regular level of humidity in the room where the Cocoon hangs

Best wishes from
